LOOSE TALK

WHAT CHAGIGA-GOERS SAID THIS WEEK

"Hearing Tani Kay read the megillah in front of the whole school and their families inspired me and instilled passion throughout the room."
On Tani's moving Megillah reading

Simcha Stadlan ('16)

"Purim is always the band's favorite chaggigah. Everyone in the band made me so proud, and I'm dreading splitting apart after this year."
On his exhilarating experience performing at the chaggigah

Jordan Brown ('13)

"It was so lively and energetic! It was so great to be with not only my fellow students, but also my family, teachers, and the greater WYHS community."
On loving her first WYHS Purim chaggigah

Maya Borzak ('16)

"Being in the video was an epic experience. Filming with my boy Josh was a breeze, and playing the role of Batman was a blast."
On being a part of the Purim video production

Jacob Danis ('15)

"There were so many bright colors at the purim Chagiga this year. I really loved all the costumes- everyone's creativity truly stood out."

Ellin Gurvitch ('15)

"The food this year was fantastic! It used to be a few light foods, but this year there were tons of options: delicious cookies, fresh pizza, hamentashen, pasta, and salads. Yum!!!"

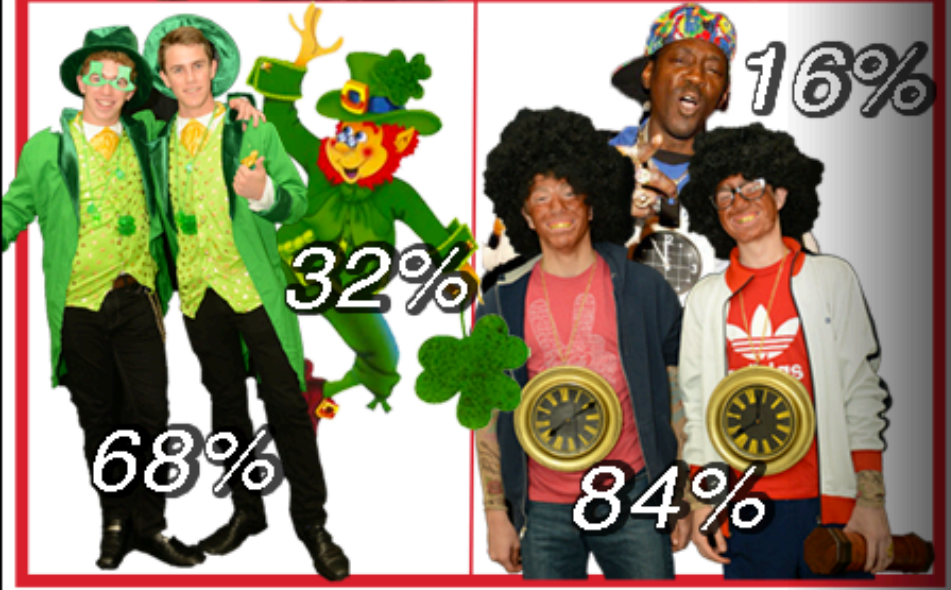

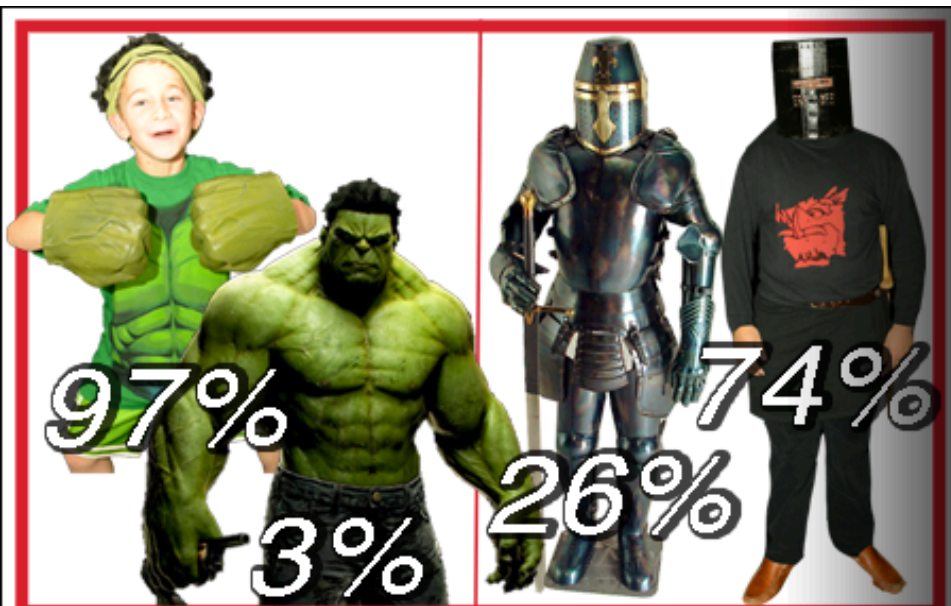

Jason Brody ('14)

"The chaggigah was an amazing experience. I really saw what WYHS is all about, and I can't wait to go there next year!"

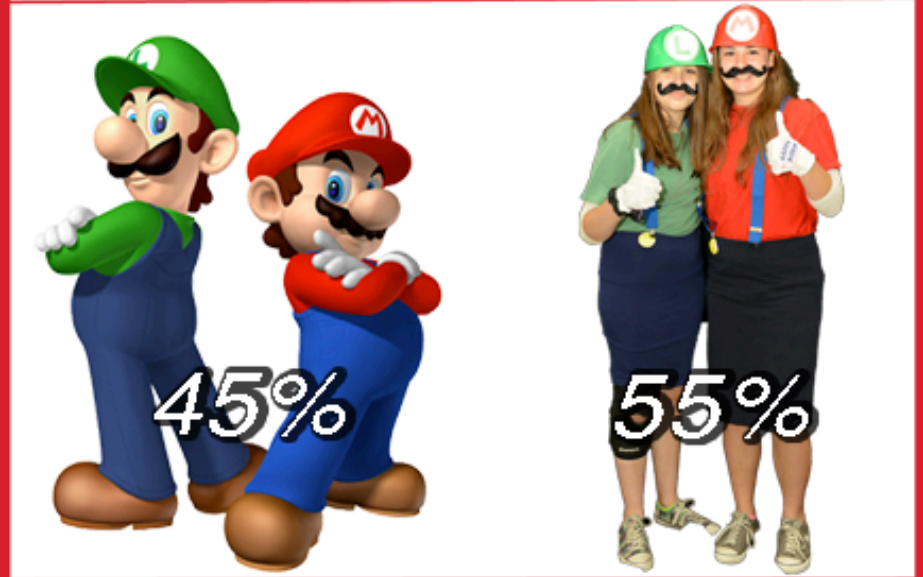

On his experience at his first WYHS chagiga

Izy Muller
(prospective student)

Batman

As Batman (Jacob Danis '15) tries to protect the school from peril, he struggles to fit in. He faces adversity and ultimately teaches us a heartwarming lesson - superheroes have feelings too.

A takeoff on the original Key & Peele skit "Dueling Hats," watch as the Storm Athletes compete in this amusing Swag-athon.

SNL Weekend Update

Join Weekend Update host Seth Meyers (Noah Markovitch '14) as he welcomes his podiatrist's recently Bar-Mitzvah'd son, Jacob (Yosef Itzkowitz '14). Jacob masterfully relays the story of Purim as he humors his audience with various corny Jewish jokes.
